

ERADICATING BROOM IN THE EAST BAY RIDGELANDS

*Featured Speaker: Ken Moore
Wildland Restoration Pioneer*

Co-Sponsors:

East Bay Regional Park District
Claremont Canyon Conservancy
Hills Emergency Forum

When: January 8, 2010, 7-9 p.m.

Where: Trudeau Center

11500 Skyline Boulevard, Oakland

Ken Moore is a pioneer in habitat restoration and invasive species control in California with some 40 years of in the field experience behind him. In 1990 he founded the Wildlands Restoration Team, a volunteer program which has been widely recognized for its accomplishments. Ken is also known for his innovative knowledge of tools and methodologies that enable workers to efficiently control invasive species on a large scale. He is a key field instructor for the California Invasive Species Council and a popular speaker at restoration conferences throughout the state.

Mr. Moore will make a presentation focused on the long term and large scale management of broom in the East Bay. There will also be a discussion period.

In this era of declining resources, and advancing invasives, it behooves all wildland/parkland stewards and interested citizens to understand and practice techniques of control and eradication that are field-tested for efficiency, maximum utility, and genuine restorative results. Mr. Moore can speak to all of this and perhaps we can learn how to combat the broom invasion with a well-educated like-minded cadre of stewards and citizens.

Directions to EBRPD Trudeau Center at 11500 Skyline Blvd, Oakland

Parking is plentiful in the adjacent parking lot and along Skyline Blvd.

From Southbound Warren Freeway (Route 13):

Exit Left onto Joaquin Miller Road. Continue on Joaquin Miller Road for app.1.5 miles. Continue straight on Joaquin Miller when it turns into Skyline Boulevard. The Trudeau Training Center will be on the left side at 11500 Skyline Boulevard. Park in lot.

From Northbound Warren Freeway (Route 13):

Exit Right onto Redwood Road. Continue on Redwood Road as it winds up the hill for app.1.5 miles. Go Left onto Skyline Boulevard. The Trudeau Training Center will be on the right side at 11500 Skyline Boulevard. Park in lot.

From the MacArthur Freeway (I-580):

Exit 35th Avenue southbound (use Route 13 if heading northbound), head east (toward hills). 35th Ave will become Redwood Road; continue to the Trudeau Training Center as above.

